

Companion Herbs

Some herbs when planted next to other plants can be very beneficial to those plants. Some herbs repel insects, some help with soil amendment, and some actually help with growth and flavor. Below are some common herb and plant companions that benefit each other.

Herb Name	Plant it Helps	Pests Controlled
Basil	Tomatoes	Flies & mosquitos
Beebalm	Tomatoes
Calendulas		Asparagus Beetles & tomato worms
Chamomile	Cabbages & onions
Caraway	All, loosens soil
Castor Bean plant		Kills plant lice & repels moles
Dill	cabbage
garlic	raspberries	Aphids, Japanese beetles and rose bugs
Geranium		Japanese beetles
Horseradish	potatoes	Potato bugs
Hyssop	Grapes & Cabbage	Cabbage Moth
Marigold	all	Mexican beetles, nematodes
Parsley	Tomatoes
Rosemary	Sage
Sage	Broccoli, carrots, brussels sprouts, and peas
Anise	Coriander
Nettles	Broccoli
Borage	Tomatoes, squash	Tomato worm
Summer Savory	Beans	Bean beetles